The First Day of the Week

By: Robert Notgrass

Christians Worship God On the First Day of the Week.

When I was a small boy, I remember going to worship services upon the first day of the week. As we got dressed, ate cereal and got in the car, I noticed that there was hardly anyone in sight. There were very few neighbors out, or at least I did not think they were out, and there were not many people on the roads. Now, we had to drive about 14 miles or so to the church building and even on the highways there was hardly anybody there. Most of the businesses were closed except gas stations and it was because business owner knew the importance of the first day of the week. Today, it seems that every business is open and the earlier the better.

A couple of months ago, during the week, we stopped into a fast food restaurant and I noticed how beautifully decorated it was. There were fresh flowers on the tables, nice pictures on the wall, and it seem like some kind of mural all across one wall. As I went in for a closer observation, I noticed that it was about the history of their business. But, there was something else. There was an old fashion looking door and next to it, it said, "People always ask us, "Why you are closed on Sunday?" We respect the hard work of our employees. As a result, we believe in giving them the day off to worship, if they choose, or spend time with family and friends." Now, under that old fashion door, it says, "NEVER ON SUNDAYS," and it reminded me of the days of my youth. But, what has happened that most people no longer see the first day of the week as nothing important?

People forget that this is the Lord's day. It is called the Lord's day because the Lord was raised upon the first day-(Matthew 28:1). The Church of the Lord was established upon the first day-(Acts 2). Christians in the first century, as well as today, meet to worship God and to remember the Lord's death, burial, and resurrection in a memorial supper upon the first day-(Acts 20:7). We give of ourselves out of that which God has prospered us, upon the first day-(1 Corinthians 16:1-2).

It is pleasant to see signs that say, "NEVER ON SUNDAYS," which remind not only the worldly people, but godly as well, that there are more important things to do on Sunday, than make money or rest. Sunday is a time off. It is a time to focus on our Lord. It is a time to focus on the Church. It is a time to focus on God and our worship to Him. It is a time to focus on the great sacrifice of our Lord's body. It is a time to focus on giving richly as God has richly given us. But, we cannot do this if we do not have in our minds and in our hearts that the Lord's day is called the Lord's day for a reason. It belongs to Him. May we remember this when we choose to not see its importance. May we remember that if someone in the world can say, "NEVER ON SUNDAY," how much more should a Christian say these words? May we always "remember" upon the first day.

I HAVE ENOUGH

Jacob and Esau had been estranged for over twenty years. It was a terrible break-up. Esau had sworn that he would kill his brother. However, when they met, after so many years, there was a change. Listen to these words:

“And Esau ran to meet Jacob, and embraced him, and fell upon his neck, and they wept”-Genesis 33:4.

Now, notice the statement that I use for the heading of this article:

“And Esau said, I have enough, my brother; keep that thou hast unto thyself”-Verse 9. Then, Jacob, said: “Take, I pray thee, my blessing that is brought to you; because God has dealt graciously with me, and because I have enough”-Genesis 33:11.

Notice that both brothers agreed that God had greatly blessed the both of them. They made the statement: “I have enough!”

How about that! Can you imagine a person in our day saying: “I have enough?” Fact is, most will always want more. Enough is never Enough!

Isn't it a joy to be with a person who is content? Say, there is a verse of scripture that reminds us of that: “But godliness with contentment is great gain. For we brought nothing into this world and it is certain we can carry nothing out. Having food and raiment let us be content therewith”-1 Timothy 6:6-8.

Oh, there is another scripture that comes to mind: Hebrews 13:5: “Let your conversation be without covetousness; and be content with such things as you have: for he has said, I will never leave you, nor forsake you.”

Fact is, we have been conditioned to want more and more. Even when the plate is full, we want more. Remember that widow who continued to supply food for the prophet of God and her barrel was filled the next morning. Every day she would run out after fixing for her child and the man of God, but by the next morning there would be fresh supplies! You know what the Bible says: “Every good and perfect gift is from above and comes down for the Father of lights”-James 1:17.

We should use what God supplies every day. His bounty never runs out. He cares for the sparrows, will He not also care for us? Every hair of our head is numbered!

If you are in the family of God, you are rich! You have the greatest blessing that can be given.

Read again the story of the two brothers. They teach us needed lessons of life.
