Do Something Valuable

By Phil McIntosh

Sometimes our lives are so busy that we can't wait until we have a day off. I watched a video the other day on YouTube that was an overdramatic representation of teachers leaving school on Friday, dancing as they went toward the door. I'm confident that teachers enjoy their jobs more than that and wouldn't actually do that in reality, but that doesn't mean there might not be a different vibe in the air when they leave on Friday compared to when they leave on Tuesday. Be it physical or mental stress, phone calls, problems, hectic schedules, heavy responsibilities, an overbooked to-do list, or bosses who always ask for more- sometimes you need a break to just breathe and spend a little time with your feet up (metaphorically and literally). The Lord Jesus understood this; after dispatching His disciples to a variety of work, He told them to stop what they were doing for a beat and rest (Mk 6:31-32). If you don't pause and reset, you risk burnout and bitterness.

Do you ever get a day off and then feel guilty for doing nothing? Do you ever have a bug to get up and leave the house anyway? Do you say before your time off that you can't wait to just relax, but then during the time off talk yourself into getting things done anyway? That's the old conscience working overtime and perhaps even some guilt creeping in for actually taking time off to recharge. There is certainly substance in God's words that might urge us to refrain from laziness.

"A lazy man buries his hand in the bowl, And will not so much as bring it to his mouth again." -Proverbs 19:24

"The lazy man will not plow because of winter; He will beg during harvest and have nothing." -Proverbs 20:4

"As a door turns on its hinges, So does the lazy man on his bed." -Proverbs 26:14

While there is a difference between recharging low batteries and laziness, it is not a bad idea to motivate ourselves to make good use of our time.

We know that time is fleeting. Time was created by God; He existed before it, lives outside of it, and will be eternally in power after it. The book of Ecclesiastes (3:1-8) tells us that there is a "time" for everything under heaven. That assumes a construct of a lifespan in which activities are experienced. That construct though won't last long (Jms 4:14). Even if one lives for many decades, the inevitable eventuality is someone's time will come to an end (Psa 90:10). During an individual's lifespan there are years, months, days, and seconds for which we will be responsible. What we do in our time on Earth will partially determine our eternal place of residence (2 Cor 5:10). It then would behoove us to do something valuable with our time.

Doing something valuable with the time at hand is definitely a biblical concept. One of my favorite verses as it pertains to how we live out our lives is included in the apostle Paul's epistle to the Lord's church at Ephesus. He wrote this church and encouraged them to not walk aimlessly, but to live with their eyes open and their minds ready:

"See then that you walk circumspectly, not as fools but as wise, ¹⁶redeeming the time, because the days are evil. ¹⁷Therefore do not be unwise, but understand what the will of the Lord is." -Ephesians 5:15-17

The phrase "redeeming the time" should echo in our minds as we might ignorantly assume we have much time left in this world to get right and stay right with God. We don't know what time we have left, so we'd better be right, right now (2 Cor 6:2).

Finally, allow me to give one last note of consideration and motivation. For those who haven't realized from the temperature outside, it's summertime. School is out and there are many things we might have planned for the summer. Whether it's spending time with family, going on trips, prepping for college, resting from a hectic school year, or anything else that might be weighing us down- allow me to challenge you to do something valuable with your time. Do something for God. Do something for the church. Do something for your family. Do something for your knowledge. Do something for your health. Don't let mid-August come quickly and you say to yourself, "I wish I had done more." The time, Lord willing, spreads into the distance before you right now; do something valuable with it (Eph 5:16).

SCRIPTURE READINGSunday AM: "Why Can't I Watch Porn?"*Matthew 5:27-30

"²⁷ Ye have heard that it was said by them of old time, Thou shalt not commit adultery: ²⁸ But I say unto you, That whosoever looketh on a woman to lust after her hath committed adultery with her already in his heart. ²⁹ And if thy right eye offend thee, pluck it out, and cast it from thee: for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not that thy whole body should be cast into hell. ³⁰ And if thy right hand offend thee, cut it off, and cast it from thee: for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not that thy whole body should be cast into hell."

Sunday PM: "What Church Will We Be?"Revelation 1:18-20

"¹⁸ I am he that liveth, and was dead; and, behold, I am alive for evermore, Amen; and have the keys of hell and of death. ¹⁹ Write the things which thou hast seen, and the things which are, and the things which shall be hereafter; ²⁰ The mystery of the seven stars which thou sawest in my right hand, and the seven golden candlesticks. The seven stars are the angels of the seven churches: and the seven candlesticks which thou sawest are the
